
An update to American's flexible fare offerings

Issued: June 1, 2020

American Airlines has extended its offer to waive change fees for customers who purchase tickets by June 30, 2020, for future travel. This offer applies to tickets that meet the following criteria:

- Any ticket, except Basic Economy fares, purchased on or before June 30, 2020, for future travel, will not incur a change fee prior to travel.
- Changes to origin and destination are allowed.
- No penalty will apply for voluntary changes made prior to departure of your ticketed trip as stated in Category 16 of the fare rule. All other fare rules will apply and any fare difference, if applicable, must be paid at the time of the exchange.

As a reminder, American currently has a global flexibility waiver in place for all tickets purchased on/before June 30, 2020 which includes Basic Economy, for travel through September 30, 2020.

We hope this update demonstrates our continued commitment to you and your travelers.

This information can also be found on Sales Link by viewing:

Latest Communication Updates

Sincerely,

Agency Relations

American Airlines